Prime Mercantile Paper-4@5 per cent.

Foreign Exchange-Unchanged. Government Bonds-Strong, quotations showing an advance of 14 per cent, for the 4s and 14 per cent. for the currency 6s. The State bonds have been more active for some time past, especially for some of the Tennessee issues, and prices are strong. Railroad bonds have been very active, with a large business in Eric seconds, new, and West Shore firsts, and a good business in other issues.

Prices are generally strong. The stock market opened strong this morning for almost everything except New York Central, which was heavy, and during the forenoon developed no other feature than that of an active market, with steady buying by both bulls and bears, the latter cover ng shorts, while there was a fair amount of business done for the long accounts.

After midday prices became more quiet and weak, and in some eases the lowest quotations of the day were reached, but this was followed by a rally during the last hour, which continued until the close of the board, the market finally closing steady at the advances made, and generally within a small fraction of the highest prices reached.

The interest of the street was centered in the news from Chicago regarding the meeting of the rathond officials in session there to-day, and the ansi rally was made after it had been announced that the settlement of everything in the West and Northwest was complete, and that rates would probably be restored on Monday, the plan adopted being satisfactory to all the roads. The continued repetition of the statement that Mr. Vanderoilt was acting with some leading bears in depressing prices, and that he was a heavy seller of short stock, led to his authorizing the publication of a statement, too, in which he says: "There is not a word of truth in the stories that I am operating with Mr. Caramack, Lan. not interested in any with Mr. Cammack. I am not interested in any way, either with him or anybody else bearing the stock market. I have not sod a share of Central since sold 350,000 shares to the syndicate in November, 1879. I have not sold a share of Lake Shore directly or indirectly for months. Do you think I would sell Lake Shore at these prices? The statement of the New York Central for the quarter ending March 31 to be submitted to the Railroad Commissioner, it is announced, will show a decrease in the gross earnings of $750,000, a decrease in the net earnings of $600,000 and a deficiency after paying a 1 per cent. dividend of $120,000; also, that the statement will show that only a little over 1/2 of 1 per cent. was earned on the stock for the first quarter of the current year. This result of the day's operation on the stock Exchange is a net advance of 1/2 to 11/2 per cent. for the active stocks, the greatest gains being made by Northwestern and Michigan Central, but New York Central. Lake Shore, Pacific Mail and Lacka-Wanna are each up %. St. Paul and Delaware and Hudson each 34, and Western Union 1/2 per cent, The total sales were 228.781 shares, but of this about 25 per cent, consisted of Northwestern, and 150 000 shares of that stock, St. Paul, Union Pacific and Lackswanna, one-half of to-day's business, was done during the forenoon. Northwest opened at 93%, sold at 91%, touched 95% just before 2 o'clock, and then rose to 951/2, and closed at 95. St. Paul sold first at 69, dropped to 68%, and railied to 19% before mid-day, sold in the after-noon down to 68%, and railied to 67%, at which it closed. New York Central opened at 86%, sold as low as 84% early in the day, its lowest price. and then at 824 in the forenoon, broke to 860 later, and in the final raily reached 87 ... closed at 87%. Lake Shore was strong at 52% 353% during the forenoon, felt to 53 about 2 o'clock, and in the last hour rose to 54 closing at 53%. About the only weak stock on the list in which there was any trading of importance was Central, of New Jersey, which is down % per cent, at %6, after selling as low as 35%. Notwithstanding the

are in Lake Shore. 4%; New York Central, 2%; Michigan Central, 2%; Lackawanna, 1%, and other stocks for less than 1 per cent. The total sales for the week were 1,609,077 shares, or more than double the previous week's business; but of this week's transactions Northwestern, St. Paul, Lake Shore, Lackswanna, New York Central and Union Pacific contributed 1,200,000 shares. The railway bond market has been unusually active, the total sales amounting to $2,101,000: but of this sum Erle seconds new contributed over $1,000,690 and West Shore $70,000. Prices are elecided raily during the past two days, almost everything on the active list is lower this evening than it was a week ago, the exceptions being Northwestern, which is unchanged, and Union Pacific, which shows an advance of % per cent. Among the mactive shares C., B. and Q. also shows a gain of 11/2 per cent., and Manitoba

"This March weather in May," said a merchant, the other day, "has played havoc with dry goods jobbers and other branches of trade." There is little doubt but that the unseasonable weather bas curtailed trade to a great extent this week. Groceries have displayed considerable animation, and leading staples are firmly held. Sugars are especially strong. The large export movement in that staple gives great confidence to holders, and further advances are expected. Dried fruits show more activity. Fish continue quiet. Dairy products remain dull and weak.

Wheat-Local markets continue firm, bota in iene and prices. Quetations at other points are dides or tacks, unsmoked, 6%c; Bean pors, clear, all higher, and the closes met a firm feeling and setive demand all round. Local futures dull kereipts only fair. New York at noon close was 2e higher, Baltimore 136c stronger, and Chicago has advanced 1%c from yesterday's quotations. Corn-Like wheat is active and in good demand. All quotations are firm and higher. Receipts are small and futures dull. New York is 3/c higher.

Oats-Very firm, and under light receipts are in active demand at full quotations. The following table snows the receipts of grain at this point for the past twenty-four hours;

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH.

Produce Markets. CHICAGO, May 9 .- Saturday offered an unusual spectacle of very active markets on 'Change and an apparent strong revival of speculation based upon the unfavorable crop outlook. After the sub-idence of the foreign war talk prices fell off ently hesitating which way to turn. There was large "short" selling of wheat under 90c for June in the apparent belief that values had been boomed solely on war talk, but the recent bad recent bad reports from the winter wheat region has apparently developed a strong movement, and the tuying has been both on local and outside account. June options in wheat to-day reached a point within 11/2c of the highest prices current during the period when war talk overshadowed other considerations, and closed firm within %c of outside figures. The May report of the Department of agriculture reducing the probable Winter wheat yield 120,000,000 bushels as compared to last year was one of the causes lending strength to today's trading, while it was claimed that the reports from the States made the outlook altogether and steady. Corn ruled firm, sympathizing more or less with wheat, and closing 5 to higher than yesterday. Otts ruled firmer early, but the improvement did not hold, and the market closed easy. There was very little speculation in provisions, but the market ruled firmer. Flour-Firmer but quotably unchanged. Wheat-Active and unrettled. but decidedly stronger. Crop news continue bad, and the nome markets were all quoted stronger. The market opened %@%c higher, advanced to a point 2%c over the closing yesterday, decimed %c, fluctuated and closed %c over yesterday. WE CAN NOT SPARE HIM YET.

A Western Eulogy of Grant on His Latest Birthday. Hon. George R Peck delivered the following short address at the Grant exercises at Topeka, Kas., upon the occasion of the 'Old Commander's" eixty-third birthday last poets sang of Ulvases: "So wise in counsil and so brave in war." We, too, live in classic times, in years made glorious by that other Ulysses whose name is upon every lip to day-the heroic conqueror of Appomattox. The apple trees are just beginning to blossom again as they did on that April morning when the guns were stacked and the weary soldier breathed the first sweet breath of peace. It is but natural that we should love our old commander. Carlyle is right when he says the world's history is the history of its great leaders. Call it heroworship, or what you will, human nature always chooses for its idols the men with iron in their blood. In the great march of time, it is ordered that some shall follow and some shall lead by divine appointment. You can not tell why it happened to be Oliver Cromwell who rose to be the head of England's Puritan Commonwealth. You can not explain what chain of circumstances aced Washington in the leadership of our Revolution. They say bayonets think. The steel that flashed along our line of battle demanded a leader, and found him in U. S.

Grant. And what a leader he was! Patient of toil, serene amid alarms, Inflexible in faith, invincible in arms." The Nation laid its burden upon him, and he fainted not. His was the genius of common sense, the courage that is ready at 4 o'clock in the morning. He has been compared to Napoleon, but Napoleon was grast only in prosperity; when disaster overtook him he was but a player on the stage. He bas been compared to Wellington, but Wellington was a scion of nobility, and his troops fought, as Napier says, "in the cool shade of the aristocracy." Grant was from the people; simple and rugged a faithful friend, a generous foe, who learned the anightly virtues in the plain school of American manhood.

The old man is sick and tired to-day, but his thoughts, I am sure, go back to the old days. Again he marches through the Wilderness; again the Nation's hand is clasped in his: again the Nation's heart is praying for his celiverance. And it will come. John McCullough in Chicago.

ga Tribune. John McCullough, the tragedian, arrived in the city from St. Louis Thursday morning and is stopping at the residence of his friend, John B. Carson, on Michigan boulevard, where he expects to remain a week or more. Mr. McCullough is looking well in the face, but appears weak and uncertain in his step. He strolled around town yesterday, and spent some moments gazing into the remodeled front of McVicker's Theater, where he last played. Yesterday morning he dropped in at the Tremont House, and an old theatrical friend who met him there said that the tragedian conversed with him nearly two hours about old times in a most rational manner. He paid a bill of $10 59 which he had contracted at the hotel when last here, and which he remembered even to the exact amount. He did not refer o his own professional career at all.
